

Bigstone Forestry Inc.

General Manager

Bigstone Forestry Inc. (“B.F.I.”) is a harvesting company. An entity of Bigstone Cree Nation, Bigstone Forestry Inc (“BFI”) prides itself on providing community members with the opportunity to build on current skills and add to their employability.

As a working leader of the Bigstone Forestry team, you will be responsible for the annual harvest of 320,000 m³ of timber under contract to Alberta-Pacific. Reporting to the board of directors, your primary responsibility will be to optimize harvesting production by the efficient allocation of equipment and personnel. These activities will be conducted with strict adherence to all safety and environmental standards and contractual obligations.

The general manager will be responsible for budgeting, capital expenditures, personnel recruitment and customer relations. On a monthly basis the manager will perform accounting duties, site inspections and team meetings.

Along with 5 years’ logging or related experience, you must have excellent business communication skills and proven leadership qualities. Applicants with formal forestry education are preferred. Experience with computer applications, block and road layout, and Alberta forestry practices would be essential, as would an understanding of equipment maintenance and repairs. Fluency in Cree is an asset.
